TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 5, 1860.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT .- Notwithstanding the extent and diversity of duties, the Supreme Court by dint of unremitting labor by its judges, keeps its business substantially within control. It commenced its last term with 213 cases on its docket, of which number 184 were finally disposed of before the adjournment. Of the 164 added during the term, some were dismissed for irregular removal, or for want of jurisdiction. There were 124 causes decided, in which written opinions were delivered. The of parties to an amount exceeding $100,000,-000. One of them involved a disputed boundary between two sovereign States of the Union. Numerous motions were heard and disposed of, many of them involving important judicial questions, where two counsel were heard on each side, in ten of which, written opinions were delivered. Among these motions were applications for writs of mandamus. There was one to decide a decree made at a former term, and to revoke the procendo issued, which was elaborately discussed by counsel. Six cases were dismissed upon argument, for want of jurisdiction. The last cause reached and disposed of, was docketed within the year 1859.

We know of no judicial tribunal which has been more successful in the performance of the duties assigned to it. The business of this court expands with the growth of the country. At the commencement of the present century, when we had only about six millions of people, the number of causes at a term was limited to twenty, or five-andtwenty. Now with a population of some thirty millions, the number has increased to upwards of two hundred, showing that litigation in the Supreme Court, if not elsewhere, increases even faster than population .-Washington Constitution.

GROWTH OF RICHMOND .- From the returns | nient and easy, enabling them to do their labor of the City Assessor for the current year, it | with but little exertion. appears that the value of the real estate within the corporate limits of Richmond, this year, is $20,579,410-an increase of more than $400,000 over the appraisement of 1859. The taxes assessed thereon amount to $185,314 69, and on personal property $121,260 76-making a total of $306,575 45 -an increase of $71,000 over the assessment of 1859.

The assessment of personal property, this year, was as follows: Capital, about $6,000,-000; moneys, bonds, etc., $1.259,819; diviand therefore demonstrates the wisdom of the reduction of the rate of taxation on capiial, etc., to one half of one per cent.

The following is the Assessor's return of titheables for 1860 :- White males, 5,696; free negroes, 320; slaves, 7,604-total 13,620.

The increase over the assessment of last year is 1,000, at which rate, if maintained for ter, years, the population of the city will be doubled. The white males over 21 years | Having greatly increased their facilities for manof age, (above indicated,) represent a population, of both sexes and all ages, of about 25,000; the free negroes about 1,500. The years of age. Those under that age would in- | With all the recent improvements, have reduced crease the total slave population of the city to about 12,500, so that it may be safely stated that the population of Richmond, within the corporate limits, is nearly 40,000. The suburbs embrace an additional population of ien or twelve thousand .- Richmond Whig. THE PRESS AND PARLIAMENT. - Referring to the late debate in Parliament on the Press, the New York Herald says the Premier gracefully acknowledged the power of the press, and defending the editor of the Times, Mr. Delane, from some slurs which ed to Mr. Delane as his equal, socially, while Mr. Horsman was obliged to confess that p.r. Walter, as the heaviest proprietor in the "imes newspaper, was the most powerful member sitting upon the House of Commons. if we contrast these acknowedgements of Bricish statesmen, who are far superior in education, mental training, and practical experience, to our public men, with such sneers as that of the late Mr. Seward at "an editor FOR TAILORS, SHOE BINDERS, AND PLAN of a newspaper," we shall see that the press of the United States has before it a great work and responsibility. It is a little remarkable that, about the same time that Lord Palmerston paid his graceful tribute to the press, in Parliament, Rev. Dr. Fuller, one of the most dignified gentlemen, and eloquent speakers in this country, at one of the anniversary meetings in New York, delivered that splendid eulogium upon the power of the press, which we have already transferred to our columns, in which he spoke of JUSTICE. - Pullinger, the English defaul ter, has met his deserts in a sentence of twenty years penal servitude. The English attend to affairs of this sort with a promptitude and unflinching adherence to the principles of natural justice, which ought to make us blush for the slovenly administration of criminal law, in some parts at least of this country. No matter what a man's seeming | wider than past seasons, are altogether Narrower, character has been, his reputation or social station, if he shows himself a rogue in England, he is put relentlessly to the bar of eriminal justice, is tried, sentenced and punished without regard to anything but the actual circumstances to which his own villainy has reduced him. Of a gentleman, good conduct is expected. If he becomes guilty of erime, like this Pullinger, he forfeits his past reputation, reduces himself to the mere conany lending or sophistications of any sort either from Baltimore or Alexandria. about him, and is treated according to what he is not what he has seemed to be before. Reaping and Mowing Machine. FOR 1860.

KIRBY'S AMERICAN HARVESTER.

THE SUPERIORITY OF KIRBY'S AMER. I ICAN HARVESTER, over all others, will come more obvious by looking at its several uperior points in detail, and then considering that all these separate excellencies are combined in one MACHINE, in the most simple and effective manner. In some of these excellencies it is cases decided are known to involve the rights | entirely unequalled, and in none of them is it surpassed. While other MACHINES may equal i in some of its desirable qualities, we can safely say there is not another MACHINE in the world which COMBINES ALL THE EXCELLEN-CIES that are found combined in KIRBY'S AMERICAN HARVESTER.

We would call the attention of Farmers to the ollowing facts: 1. That-This is the most perfect Combined Mower and Reaper in use; better than any single mower as a mower, and better than any single reaper as a reaper. 2. That-It is the strongest and the lightest; be ing made entirely of Iron, except pole, seat and platform. The finger-bar is of wrought angle iron, of great strength and lightness.

3 That-It has a Revolving Track-Clearer, which is the only track-clearer that will thoroughly separate the cut from the uncut grass, and withut leaving the cut grass in bunches. 4 That-IT REQUIRES ONE-THIRD LESS DRAFT HAN ANY OTHER MACHINE.

5 That-No pressure is made upon the hor-S' NECKS, AND NO SIDE DRAFT. 6. That-Its ability to work on rough ground is not equalled by any machine yet produced .-The finger-bar working up and down, independent of the driving-wheel, enables the machine to o through deep furrows and ditches, among stones nd bogs, over knolls and gopher hills, where no other machine could follow it. It will work from 9 That-While the machine is in motion the driver can, by means of a lever, throw the cutters out and into gear, and by another lever he can raise and lower the finger-bar to pass obstructions, or move from field to field. 10. That-It is easily managed, marvelously simple, well built, compact, not liable to get out of order, made of the best materials, Babbet, metal boxes, and is furnished with double trees, neck yoke and extras complete.

We would request all those who are in want of a REAPER and MOWER, to send for a Circular descriptive of the MACHINE, &c., before making other arrangements. The MACHINES are in all dends, $186,586; all other $1,214,042. The cases warranted to give satisfaction, or no sale .total indicates an increase over that of '59, Manufactured by D. M.
